

How to find the EMC TEST CLUB...

By road:

The EMC Test Club is located at Hatfield in Hertfordshire, and close to Junction 4 of the A1(M), so it is easy to get to from the motorway network. There is ample parking outside the Test Club.

By rail:

Hatfield Station is nearby, also on the Great North Road, to the south of the EMC Test Club. There are usually taxis waiting outside, or (if your baggage is light!) it is just a short walk to the Test Club north from the station, past the Red Lion, across the footbridge and past the Wrestlers Pub. Hatfield Station is on the London Kings Cross line, around 30 minutes from London.

By air:

London Luton airport is our local airport, and connects with UK regions, Eire, and Continental Europe by budget airlines such as Easyjet and Ryanair. A taxi from the airport to the Test Club should cost in the region of £30 (about €45).
